Quick Answer: The best secret websites to make money online in Canada include Freecash, Testerup, LEO (Leger Opinion), SurveyLion, Toluna, Prime Opinion, Great Canadian Rebates, TopCashback, Canva, Printful, Adobe Firefly, Gelato, UserTesting, and Finder Canada. You can earn from a few dollars to thousands of dollars per month through paid surveys, get-paid-to tasks, cashback shopping, print-on-demand sales, and creative design work. The easiest ways to earn money on these lesser-known platforms include completing surveys on LEO and Prime Opinion, playing games on Freecash, testing apps on Testerup, and selling custom designs through Canva and Printful. Legitimate secret money-making websites pay via PayPal, Interac e-Transfer, cheque, gift cards, or direct deposit, and offer low minimum withdrawal thresholds.

Introduction: Hidden Online Gems That Actually Pay Canadians

There's much more to making money online than Amazon and eBay. From playing games and answering surveys to starting your own side hustle, there are plenty of hidden online gems that can help you earn extra income. So if you want to bring home the bacon, check out these secret websites to make money.

Most Canadians default to the well-known platforms when they think about earning online, but the truth is that some of the most lucrative opportunities are hidden in plain sight. These lesser-known websites offer legitimate ways to earn real cash, whether you're looking to make a few extra dollars in your spare time or build a full-fledged online business.

The platforms in this guide span a wide range of earning methods—from simple get-paid-to tasks and surveys to creative design tools and print-on-demand services. Some require nothing more than your opinion, while others let you turn your creativity into a sustainable income stream. All of them work for Canadian users, with payouts available in CAD or easily convertible currency.

Why Freecash Is Worth Your Time for Canadian Users

Freecash has quickly become one of the most versatile get-paid-to platforms available, offering a diverse range of earning opportunities through its Offerwall system. Whether you enjoy playing mobile games, testing new apps, or completing surveys, there's always something available to match your interests.

The platform's coin-based system is straightforward: 1,000 coins equal $1. You accumulate coins by completing offers, and once you reach the minimum threshold, you can cash out through multiple payment methods. The cryptocurrency payout option is particularly unique among survey sites, appealing to users interested in digital assets.

For Canadians looking to maximize their earnings, Freecash offers some of the highest-paying game offers available. Some users report earning hundreds of dollars from a single game offer that requires reaching a specific level or achievement.

1. Testerup

How it works: Testerup is an online platform that pays real people like you to test out mobile games, apps and digital products. You can also get paid to complete surveys, then cash out via PayPal once you reach the minimum withdrawal limit.

How much you can earn: Up to $800

Pros

Plenty of different ways to earn money

Free to use

User-friendly app

Easy withdrawals via PayPal

High earning potential

Cons

$55 minimum cash-out

Some tasks require you to make in-app purchases

Some complaints about offer tracking issues

Must read: Testerup review

Why Testerup Stands Out for Canadian Users

Testerup offers one of the highest earning potentials in the get-paid-to space, with users able to earn up to $800 through offers. The platform's focus on app testing alongside game playing provides variety for users who want to mix up their earning activities.

The platform is particularly appealing for users who enjoy strategy games and RPGs, with popular titles like Raid: Shadow Legends and Monopoly Go! regularly available. However, the $55 minimum withdrawal threshold is significantly higher than many competitors, meaning you'll need to invest substantial time before you can cash out.

Testerup's requirement that some tasks need in-app purchases to progress faster is a double-edged sword. While it can accelerate your earnings, it also means you're spending money to make money—which defeats the purpose for many users.

1. LEO (Leger Opinion)

How it works: LEO (formerly Leger Opinion) is a Canadian survey site and app. Create an account and you can get paid to complete surveys, then convert your rewards to gift cards, prepaid cards or PayPal cash payments.

How much you can earn: Up to $2 per survey

Pros

Sign up and start earning in minutes

User-friendly app

Canadian platform

Available on iOS and Android

Flexible reward options including Aeroplan points

Cons

$20 minimum withdrawal

Other platforms provide more ways to earn

Withdrawals may take up to 10 business days to be processed

Related: LEO review

Why LEO Stands Out for Canadian Users

LEO is one of the few survey platforms specifically designed for Canadian users, which gives it a unique advantage. As a Canadian company based in Montreal, Leger Marketing has deep roots in the Canadian market research industry and understands the unique demographics and consumer behaviors of Canadian households.

The platform offers a variety of survey opportunities, from short 5-minute questionnaires to longer 30-minute studies. The reward options are particularly diverse, including the ability to convert your points into Aeroplan miles—a popular loyalty program for Canadian travelers.

LEO also runs weekly and monthly contests that give users additional chances to earn rewards. The platform is free to use and available on both iOS and Android devices, making it easy to complete surveys on the go.

1. Finder Canada

How it works: Here at Finder, we think you should be rewarded. So when you sign up for special offers on Finder, like applying for a new credit card or loan or signing up for a GPT site, we'll pay you a cash bonus. Learn more about Finder Rewards.

How much you can earn: $25 to $250+ per transaction

Pros

Many offers available

You could potentially earn hundreds of dollars

Easy way to earn money

Stackable with provider welcome bonuses

Cons

It could take several weeks to receive your cash

Reward end dates may apply

Requires taking specific financial actions

Related: Discover more rewards

Why Finder Canada Is Worth Checking Out

Finder Rewards stands out as one of the most lucrative cashback platforms in the country, particularly for anyone looking to maximize returns on financial products. Unlike traditional cashback sites that focus on retail shopping, Finder Rewards specializes in high-value financial bonuses that can range from $25 to over $250 per transaction.

The platform works by partnering with banks, credit card issuers, and financial institutions to promote their products. When you apply for a financial product through Finder's website and get approved, you receive a cash bonus from Finder. What makes this particularly attractive is that you can stack these offers with the banks' own welcome bonuses, meaning you could potentially earn hundreds of dollars from a single application.

1. SurveyLion

How it works: SurveyLion is a legit Canadian site where you can get paid to answer surveys. It's free to use, and you can get paid by cheque simply for signing up and sharing your opinions.

How much you can earn: $1 - $10 per survey

Pros

Simple way to make money online

No minimum withdrawal threshold

Canadian platform

Established company

Pays real money

Cons

Pays by cheque

Cheques are only mailed out six times a year

Other sites offer more ways to make money

No mobile app

Dive deeper: SurveyLion review

Why SurveyLion Stands Out for Canadian Users

SurveyLion is a legit money-making platform that pays everyday Canadians real money for completing online surveys. All you have to do is create an account and fill out your profile, and SurveyLion will then email you an invitation when you qualify for a survey. Complete the survey and you'll earn money just for providing your feedback.

What sets SurveyLion apart is its no-minimum withdrawal policy. Unlike most survey sites that require you to accumulate a certain balance before cashing out, SurveyLion lets you request payment at any time. The trade-off is that payments are made by cheque and mailed out only six times a year, so you'll need to plan accordingly.

1. Toluna

How it works: Next on our list of secret websites to make money is Toluna, a website and app that pays ordinary Canadians real money just for completing surveys. Once you reach the $10 minimum withdrawal limit, you can redeem your rewards through PayPal, gift cards or charitable donations.

How much you can earn: 15 - 50,000 points (3,000 points = $1)

Pros

User-friendly website and app

Wide range of survey opportunities

Lots of rewards to choose from

Available in multiple countries

Highly rated mobile app

Cons

Other sites offer more ways to earn

Payouts take up to three weeks

Points expire after 12 months

Confusing points system

Must read: Toluna review

Why Toluna Stands Out for Canadian Users

Toluna is an online survey platform and free money app that has built a strong reputation over its many years of operation. The platform pays you points for every survey you complete—3,000 points is equivalent to $1—while you can also earn by playing simple online games.

The platform's global reach means you may occasionally qualify for international surveys that offer higher payouts. The reward options are diverse, including PayPal cash, gift cards, and charitable donations. The ability to donate to charity is a nice option for users who want their survey participation to support good causes.

Toluna's mobile app is highly rated, making it easy to complete surveys wherever you are. However, the points system can be confusing at first, and the three-week payout processing time is slower than many competitors.

1. Prime Opinion

How it works: Prime Opinion pays you real money for answering surveys online or via a mobile app. It's simple to sign up and start making money straight away, and the reward points you earn can be redeemed through PayPal, over 90 gift cards or charitable donations.

How much you can earn: Up to CA$7 per survey

Pros

Sign up and start earning immediately

Highly rated mobile app

Cash out from $6

Wide range of rewards to choose from

Fast payouts (typically within 10 minutes)

Cons

Slow earn rate

Some complaints about survey screen-outs

Reward points expire after 12 months

Uses points rather than direct cash

Dive deeper: Prime Opinion review

Why Prime Opinion Stands Out for Canadian Users

Prime Opinion offers some of the highest per-survey payouts in the Canadian market, with surveys paying up to $7 each. The platform's 100 points equals US$1 system is easy to understand, and the minimum withdrawal of $6 is relatively low.

The platform is known for its wide range of survey opportunities, meaning you're more likely to find surveys that match your demographic profile. Prime Opinion also offers the option to donate your earnings to charity, which appeals to users who want to support good causes while earning.

Prime Opinion's user-friendly app and website make it easy to complete surveys on any device. The platform processes payments quickly, with many users reporting receiving their PayPal payments within minutes of requesting a withdrawal.

1. Great Canadian Rebates

How it works: Great Canadian Rebates is a website that pays cashback when you shop at over 900 partner merchants and brands. It also offers discount coupons for shoppers, along with rebates when you apply for a credit card at a partner financial institution. To start earning cashback, log into your Great Canadian Rebates account and click through to the merchant's website from the cashback platform.

How much you can earn: From 1% to 5% cashback

Pros

Minimal effort required

Hundreds of partner merchants

Competitive credit card rebates

Canadian platform

Also offers discount coupons

Cons

Risk of unnecessary spending

Slow payouts

Interface isn't very easy on the eye

Must read: Great Canadian Rebates review

Why Great Canadian Rebates Stands Out for Canadian Users

Great Canadian Rebates is a homegrown Canadian cashback platform that has been serving shoppers since 2006. With over 900 partner retailers, it offers impressive coverage across categories including electronics, fashion, travel, and financial products.

One of the standout features of Great Canadian Rebates is its strong focus on financial product rebates. Credit card applications through the platform commonly offer rebates ranging from $30 to $200, making it an excellent option for anyone looking to maximize returns on financial decisions.

The platform also offers discount coupons in addition to cashback, providing multiple ways to save. While the interface could use a modern refresh, the earning potential more than makes up for the dated design.

1. TopCashback

How it works: This secret website for making money online pays cashback when you shop at over 200 retailers that deliver in Canada. All you have to do is log in to your TopCashback account and search for the store where you want to make a purchase. Then you can click the "Get Cash Back" button to be taken to the retailer's website and start shopping, with cashback credited to your account within seven days.

How much you can earn: 0.5% to 16.16% cashback

Pros

High cashback rates

No minimum withdrawal threshold

Simple online shopping process

Plenty of positive customer reviews

Claims to pass 100% of commission to users

Cons

Be wary of overspending

Not as many Canadian retailers as some other platforms

Long wait time for withdrawals

Dive deeper: TopCashback review

Why TopCashback Stands Out for Canadian Users

TopCashback operates on a unique model where it claims to pass 100% of the commission it earns from retailers directly to its members. This means potentially higher cashback rates compared to competitors that keep a portion of the commission for themselves.

The platform features a wide range of partner retailers across categories including fashion, travel, electronics, and groceries. TopCashback reports that its members earn an average of $450 per year, which is significantly higher than many competing platforms.

The site also offers a gift card shop where you can earn cashback on gift card purchases, which can then be used for additional shopping. The no-minimum withdrawal threshold is particularly appealing for users who want to cash out small amounts quickly.

1. Canva

How it works: Online design platform Canva offers a huge range of tools that you can use to make extra money. Canva allows you to create just about anything, from artworks and t-shirt designs to social media templates, video content, books and websites. And that, of course, means there are many different ways to make money with Canva, like working as a freelance designer, selling printable products and templates, selling your own art, running a print-on-demand business and even creating templates for Canva's own content library.

How much you can earn: A few dollars to thousands

Pros

Opens up multiple money-making opportunities

User-friendly design platform

Lots of AI tools to simplify the creative process

Free plan available

Works on any device

Cons

Monthly subscription fee for Canva Pro

Some design skills required

Other platforms have more advanced editing tools

Related: How to make money on Canva

Why Canva Stands Out for Canadian Users

Canva has democratized design, making it possible for anyone—regardless of artistic training—to create professional-looking graphics, documents, and marketing materials. This accessibility translates directly into money-making opportunities.

You can use Canva to create and sell digital products like planners, journals, and social media templates. You can design print-on-demand products like t-shirts, mugs, and posters. You can offer freelance design services to businesses that need social media graphics, presentations, or marketing materials.

The platform's AI tools further streamline the creative process, helping you generate ideas, create variations, and speed up your workflow. Whether you're a complete beginner or an experienced designer, Canva offers tools to help you monetize your creativity.

1. Printful

How it works: Printful is a print-on-demand dropshipping platform that makes it easy to sell custom products online. Once you create custom designs using a site like Canva, Printful lets you add them to hundreds of products, including art prints, clothing, home decor and a whole lot more. Then, when a customer orders one of those products from your online store, Printful creates, packages and ships the item directly to the customer.

How much you can earn: A few dollars to thousands

Pros

Has a fulfilment centre in Mississauga

Add your designs to 300+ products

User-friendly platform

24/7 customer support

No inventory required

Cons

Other print-on-demand sites are cheaper

Plenty of competition

Managing product returns can be difficult

Why Printful Stands Out for Canadian Users

Printful has become one of the most popular print-on-demand platforms for good reason. The service handles all the logistics—printing, packaging, and shipping—so you can focus on creating designs and marketing your products.

The Canadian fulfilment centre in Mississauga is a significant advantage for Canadian sellers, as it reduces shipping times and costs for orders within Canada. The platform supports over 300 product types, from t-shirts and hoodies to phone cases and home decor.

The main challenge with Printful is competition. Since anyone can start a print-on-demand store, standing out requires a unique design aesthetic and effective marketing. However, for creative individuals willing to put in the effort, Printful offers a legitimate path to passive income.

1. Adobe Firefly

How it works: If you want to make money with AI, Adobe Firefly offers plenty of ways to make it possible. Firefly brings together a range of AI models from Adobe, Google, OpenAI, Runway and others. You can use these models to generate and edit images, video, audio and vectors, opening up a world of creative possibilities. There are then plenty of ways to monetize your content, whether you work as a graphic designer, run a print-on-demand store, create digital products or explore other options.

How much you can earn: A few dollars to thousands

Pros

Access a wide range of generative AI tools

Safe for commercial use

High level of customization

Integrates with other Adobe products

Cons

Plans start at $12.99 per month

There are plenty of other generative AI tools available

Learning curve for beginners

Why Adobe Firefly Stands Out for Canadian Users

Adobe Firefly represents the cutting edge of AI-powered creative tools, bringing together multiple generative AI models in one platform. The commercial safety of Firefly's output is a significant advantage—you can use generated content in commercial projects without worrying about copyright issues.

The platform's integration with Adobe's ecosystem means you can seamlessly move between Firefly and tools like Photoshop, Illustrator, and Premiere Pro. For creative professionals, this workflow integration can significantly boost productivity.

Whether you're creating marketing materials for clients, designing products for your print-on-demand store, or generating content for your own projects, Firefly offers tools that can help you work faster and explore creative possibilities you might not have considered.

1. Gelato

How it works: Gelato is another print-on-demand platform that connects you with production facilities around the world. When a customer places an order, Gelato routes it to the nearest production facility, reducing shipping times and costs. You can create custom designs and apply them to a wide range of products, from apparel to wall art to stationery.

How much you can earn: A few dollars to thousands

Pros

Global production network

Competitive pricing

Wide range of products

Integrates with popular e-commerce platforms

No minimum order requirements

Cons

Quality can vary by production location

Customer service response times vary

Competition is fierce

Why Gelato Stands Out for Canadian Users

Gelato's global production network is its key differentiator. By routing orders to the nearest facility, it can offer faster shipping times and lower costs than platforms that ship from a single location. For Canadian sellers, this means orders to Canadian customers can be produced and shipped within Canada.

The platform integrates with popular e-commerce tools like Shopify, Etsy, and WooCommerce, making it easy to connect your store and start selling. The range of products is extensive, from standard apparel items to more niche products like phone cases and home goods.

1. UserTesting

How it works: UserTesting pays you to test websites, apps, and prototypes by completing tasks and providing verbal feedback. You'll record your screen and voice as you navigate through the test, sharing your thoughts and reactions in real-time. Tests typically take 15-20 minutes to complete.

How much you can earn: $10 per test (typically)

Pros

Higher pay per task than surveys

Flexible scheduling

No special skills required

Tests are usually interesting

Payment via PayPal

Cons

Tests are not always available

Demographic screening can limit opportunities

Requires webcam and microphone

Some tests require specific devices

Why UserTesting Stands Out for Canadian Users

UserTesting offers one of the highest per-task payouts in the online earning space. At $10 for a typical 15-20 minute test, the effective hourly rate can be $30-40—significantly higher than survey sites.

The platform is used by major companies to gather feedback on their digital products before launch. As a tester, you get a behind-the-scenes look at new websites and apps while getting paid for your honest feedback.

The main limitation is test availability. Tests are matched to specific demographic profiles, so you may not always qualify. However, when you do qualify, the pay is excellent and the work is more engaging than standard surveys.

What Are the Top Secret Websites to Make Money in Canada?

The best secret websites for making money really depend on your needs and skills. The ideal platform for someone who wants to make a bit of extra cash in their spare time will be very different to the best site for someone who wants to start their own design business, for example.

If you want to earn rewards simply for signing up for special offers, it's hard to go past Finder Canada. Freecash and Testerup are top options if you want to make money playing games, while there's a lot to like about LEO if you've got your eye on a survey side hustle.

But if you're trying to turn your creativity into cash, an online tool like Canva is ideal for bringing your designs to life. If you want, you can also pair it with a print-on-demand service like Gelato to start selling merch with your own unique designs.

Compare money-making websites based on your own requirements to find the best options.

Risks or Scams to Watch Out For in Canada

High Minimum Cash-Outs

Watch out for GPT and survey sites that require you to earn $20 or more in rewards before you can make a withdrawal. This can mean waiting weeks or months to access your earnings, and if your account becomes inactive, you might lose your balance entirely.

Survey Screen-Outs

Just because surveys are available in your account doesn't mean you'll be eligible to complete them. You won't meet demographic requirements for all surveys, so expect to spend a bit of time answering initial questions only to be screened out of a survey. Some platforms offer partial compensation for screen-outs, while others don't.

Subscription Fees

Some online tools for making money come with monthly subscription fees. For example, while Canva offers a free plan, you will need a paid Pro plan to access Canva's full range of tools and features. Adobe Firefly plans start at $12.99 per month. Always calculate whether the subscription cost is worth the earning potential.

Fake Sites

Fake survey sites try to get you to hand over sensitive personal information. Research any platform to make sure it's legit before you sign up. Check Trustpilot, Reddit, and the Better Business Bureau for reviews and complaints.

Scams

Watch out for offers that sound too good to be true, like writing letters for money or getting paid to watch Netflix. A lot of the time, they could turn out to be scams. Legitimate platforms are transparent about how they work and how much you can earn.

Red Flags to Watch For

Payment required upfront to join or participate

Requests for sensitive financial information

Guaranteed high earnings with no effort

No privacy policy or contact information

Pressure to sign up or complete tasks urgently

No presence on review sites like Trustpilot

Tips to Maximize Your Earnings on Secret Money Websites in Canada

1. Sign Up for Multiple Platforms

Different platforms offer different opportunities, and being on multiple sites increases your chances of finding high-paying tasks. Start with two or three platforms that match your interests, and add more as you gain experience.

1. Complete Your Profiles Thoroughly

The more demographic information you provide, the better your chances of qualifying for surveys and tests. Complete every profile section on every platform you join.

1. Check In Regularly

New opportunities appear frequently, and high-paying tasks are often claimed quickly. Make checking your platforms part of your daily routine.

1. Track Your Time and Earnings

Keep a simple spreadsheet or note of how much time you spend and how much you earn on each platform. This helps you identify which sites offer the best return on your time investment.

1. Cash Out Regularly

Points and rewards can expire, and platforms can change their terms. Cash out as soon as you reach the minimum threshold to ensure you receive your earnings.

1. Avoid Unnecessary Spending

Cashback sites are only valuable if you're buying things you actually need. Don't let the promise of cashback tempt you into purchases you wouldn't otherwise make.

1. Be Patient and Persistent

Building meaningful earnings takes time. Don't get discouraged by screen-outs or slow payouts. Consistency is key to maximizing your long-term earnings.

1. Read the Fine Print

Understand the terms and conditions of any platform before committing your time. Pay attention to payout thresholds, processing times, and any fees.

Frequently Asked Questions

What are the most legit secret websites to make money in Canada?

The most legit secret websites to make money in Canada include Freecash, Testerup, LEO, Prime Opinion, SurveyLion, Toluna, Great Canadian Rebates, TopCashback, Canva, Printful, and UserTesting. All of these platforms have positive user reviews, transparent payment terms, and established track records. Before signing up for any platform, research it on Trustpilot and Reddit to verify its legitimacy.

How much can I realistically earn from these secret websites in Canada?

Earnings vary dramatically based on the platform and your effort. Survey sites typically pay $5 to $100 per month for casual users. GPT platforms like Freecash and Testerup can pay $50 to $800 per offer, though high-paying offers require significant time investment. Creative platforms like Canva and Printful have unlimited earning potential, from a few dollars to thousands per month, depending on your designs and marketing efforts. UserTesting pays $10 per test, which can add up to $100-200 per month with regular participation.

Do I need special skills to make money on these websites in Canada?

Most of the platforms in this guide require no special skills. Survey sites, GPT platforms, and cashback websites are accessible to anyone. Creative platforms like Canva and Adobe Firefly benefit from design skills, but their AI tools make them accessible to beginners. Print-on-demand platforms require some design ability and marketing effort. UserTesting requires clear communication skills but no technical expertise.

How quickly can I get paid from these websites in Canada?

Payout speeds vary by platform. Prime Opinion and UserTesting process payments quickly, often within minutes to a few days. Freecash typically pays within 30 minutes. Survey sites like LEO and Toluna may take up to 10 business days to three weeks. SurveyLion pays by cheque mailed six times per year. Cashback sites like TopCashback may take several weeks to months for cashback to become payable.

Are these websites available to Canadians?

Most of the platforms in this guide are available to Canadian users. LEO and Great Canadian Rebates are specifically Canadian platforms. Freecash, Testerup, Prime Opinion, SurveyLion, Toluna, TopCashback, Canva, Printful, Adobe Firefly, Gelato, and UserTesting all serve Canadian users, though some features or reward options may vary by location. Always check the terms of service to confirm availability in Canada.

Can I use multiple secret money websites at once in Canada?

Yes, using multiple platforms is a recommended strategy for maximizing earnings. Different platforms offer different opportunities, and being on multiple sites increases your chances of finding high-paying tasks. However, avoid using the same offer on multiple platforms simultaneously, as this can violate terms of service and result in account suspension.

How do Canadian users get paid from these secret websites?

Canadian users typically get paid through PayPal, Interac e-Transfer, cheque, gift cards, prepaid Visa or Mastercard, or direct deposit. PayPal is the most common and works seamlessly in Canada. Interac e-Transfer is available on some platforms. Gift cards for Canadian retailers like Amazon.ca, Tim Hortons, and Canadian Tire are popular options. SurveyLion pays by cheque. Always check the payout methods before signing up.

Bottom Line

There are a whole lot more secret websites to make money online in Canada than many people realize. No matter whether you want to make a couple of bucks in your spare time or maybe even find a new career, check out the sites listed above to start making money straight away.

From get-paid-to platforms like Freecash and Testerup to creative tools like Canva and Printful, the opportunities span a wide range of skills, interests, and time commitments. Survey sites like LEO and Prime Opinion offer accessible entry points for anyone wanting to earn a little extra cash, while platforms like UserTesting provide higher per-task payouts for those willing to invest more time.

The key to success is matching your chosen platforms to your available time, skills, and financial goals. Start with one or two platforms that appeal to you, build your confidence and earnings, then expand into additional opportunities as you gain experience.

Remember to always research platforms before signing up, watch out for scams, and be patient as you build your earnings. With consistency and the right approach, these secret websites can provide a legitimate and rewarding way to supplement your income online.
