How to Get Monetized on TikTok: 10 Ways to Qualify and Make Money

10 Ways · Qualify & Make Money · 2026 | Updated October 28, 2026

Short Answer: One of the easiest ways to monetize a TikTok audience is to combine brand partnerships with affiliate marketing, creator rewards, or your own products.

If you're creating videos on TikTok and want to turn your audience into income, one of the first questions you may have is how to get monetized on TikTok.

TikTok offers several monetization features for eligible creators, but direct payments from TikTok are only one part of the picture. Creators can also make money through sponsorships, affiliate marketing, products, services, LIVE content, UGC, and other opportunities.

The exact programs and eligibility requirements can depend on your country, account, age, content, and TikTok's current policies. That's why it's important to check the monetization options available inside your own TikTok account.

In this guide, we'll explain how TikTok monetization works and explore 10 ways to make money on TikTok, including what beginners can do before they qualify for direct creator payments.

What Does TikTok Monetization Mean?

TikTok monetization simply means turning your TikTok presence into a source of income.

There are two broad categories.

Direct TikTok monetization

This involves features or programs provided by TikTok itself, such as eligible creator reward programs and LIVE-related features.

Indirect monetization

This includes:

* Brand sponsorships
* Affiliate marketing
* Product sales
* Digital products
* Freelance services
* UGC
* Website traffic
* Business leads

You don't have to wait for direct TikTok monetization before exploring the second category.

1. Apply for the TikTok Creator Rewards Program

The Creator Rewards Program is one of TikTok's current creator monetization programs in eligible markets.

The program provides eligible creators with opportunities to earn rewards from qualifying original content under TikTok's rules.

Availability and requirements can vary by location.

If you're interested, open TikTok Studio or your creator tools and look for the monetization section.

What should you do before applying?

Focus on:

* Original content
* Consistent publishing
* Genuine audience engagement
* Following TikTok's Community Guidelines
* Maintaining an account in good standing

TikTok can change its program requirements, so always check the current eligibility information shown to your account.

What Happened to the TikTok Creator Fund?

Many people still search for the TikTok Creator Fund when researching how to get paid.

The Creator Fund was an earlier TikTok monetization program. TikTok has introduced the Creator Rewards Program in eligible markets as a newer approach to creator rewards.

If an old article tells you that a particular follower or view number automatically qualifies you, verify that information against TikTok's current requirements.

2. Make Money Through Brand Sponsorships

You don't have to wait for TikTok to pay you directly.

Brands can pay creators to promote their products or services.

A sponsorship could involve:

* A dedicated TikTok video
* Product placement
* Product demonstration
* Tutorial
* Review
* Brand campaign
* UGC-style advertisement

For example, a technology creator might work with an accessory company.

A fitness creator could work with a fitness equipment brand.

A gaming creator could partner with a gaming-related business.

What makes a creator attractive to brands?

Companies may consider:

* Average views
* Engagement
* Audience demographics
* Niche
* Content quality
* Previous campaigns
* Follower count
* Location

A smaller creator can still have value when their audience is highly relevant to the brand.

3. Use Affiliate Marketing

Affiliate marketing can allow you to earn commissions from qualifying purchases generated through your recommendations.

Suppose you run a TikTok account about smartphones.

You could create videos about:

"5 useful accessories for your new phone."

Viewers who want the products can use an appropriate affiliate link or shopping feature where available.

Popular affiliate niches include:

* Technology
* Gaming
* Beauty
* Fitness
* Fashion
* Travel
* Home products
* Cooking

Affiliate marketing works best when the recommendation is genuinely useful.

Avoid promoting random products simply because they have a commission.

4. Sell Your Own Products

TikTok can be used to promote products you create or sell.

Physical products could include:

* Clothing
* Accessories
* Handmade items
* Artwork
* Beauty products
* Home products

Instead of making every video a direct advertisement, create useful content around the product.

For example, a clothing creator can make styling videos.

A handmade-products creator can show the production process.

A food business can demonstrate recipes featuring its products.

This makes promotional content more engaging.

5. Create and Sell Digital Products

Digital products can be particularly useful for creators because they don't require physical inventory.

You could create:

* Ebooks
* Templates
* Checklists
* Planners
* Study materials
* Design resources
* Presets
* Guides
* Online courses

For example, a creator who teaches graphic design could sell design templates.

A study creator could sell revision planners.

A productivity creator could sell downloadable planning systems.

Your TikTok videos can provide free information while the digital product offers a more complete resource.

6. Offer Services Through TikTok

If you have a professional skill, TikTok can become a portfolio and lead-generation channel.

Possible services include:

* SEO
* Copywriting
* Web development
* Graphic design
* Video editing
* Photography
* Social media management
* Tutoring
* Consulting
* Coaching

For example, an SEO professional could publish short videos explaining common website mistakes.

A potential customer who likes the content can visit the creator's profile and learn more about the service.

In this model, TikTok doesn't have to pay you directly.

The client does.

7. Monetize TikTok LIVE

Eligible creators can use TikTok LIVE to interact with viewers and may have access to monetization features such as virtual gifts, depending on their location and account.

LIVE content can include:

* Gaming
* Tutorials
* Q&A
* Music
* Interviews
* Discussions
* Product demonstrations
* Educational sessions

Before going LIVE, choose a clear topic.

For example:

"LIVE Q&A: Ask Me Anything About Video Editing."

A specific topic gives viewers a reason to participate.

8. Create UGC for Brands

UGC stands for user-generated content.

Businesses may hire creators to produce short videos that demonstrate their products or services.

This can include:

* Unboxing
* Product demonstrations
* Tutorials
* Testimonials
* Lifestyle videos
* Comparisons
* Short advertisements

One advantage of UGC is that you may not need a huge personal following.

The company may be paying primarily for your ability to create useful, natural-looking video content.

If you are comfortable on camera or with video editing, you can create sample videos and use them as a portfolio.

9. Use TikTok to Generate Website Traffic

Another way to monetize TikTok is by sending interested viewers to your website.

Your website could make money through:

* Affiliate marketing
* Advertising
* Products
* Services
* Courses
* Memberships

* Lead generation

For example, a cooking creator could publish short recipes on TikTok and direct viewers to a website for detailed recipes.

A technology creator could publish quick tutorials and link to longer guides.

TikTok becomes the traffic source while the website provides the monetization opportunity.

10. Build a Business Around Your TikTok Audience

The biggest monetization opportunity may not always be a TikTok payment.

Your TikTok audience can become the foundation of a larger business.

For example:

Fitness videos → fitness audience → coaching business

Technology videos → tech audience → affiliate website

Education videos → student audience → courses

Business videos → professional audience → consulting

Cooking videos → food audience → products and sponsorships

The key is to understand what your audience actually wants.

How to Get Monetized on TikTok Step by Step

If you're specifically searching for how to get monetized on TikTok, follow this basic process.

Step 1: Choose a niche

Pick one main subject.

This helps TikTok users understand what your account is about.

Step 2: Create original videos

Focus on your own ideas, commentary, demonstrations, education, or entertainment.

Step 3: Build an audience

Don't focus only on follower numbers.

Pay attention to:

* Watch time
* Comments
* Shares
* Saves
* Profile visits
* Returning viewers

Step 4: Follow TikTok's rules

Your account needs to remain in good standing for many monetization opportunities.

Step 5: Check TikTok Studio

Open the available creator and monetization tools to see which programs are offered to your account.

Step 6: Review the requirements

Each program can have different requirements.

Check the current rules rather than relying on old information.

Step 7: Apply when eligible

If a program is available and your account qualifies, complete the application process through TikTok.

How Many Followers Do You Need to Get Monetized on TikTok?

There isn't one follower requirement that applies to every monetization method.

Different TikTok features can have different eligibility conditions.

Some direct creator programs may have specific requirements involving factors such as:

* Age
* Location
* Followers

* Views
* Account status
* Original content

Other monetization methods, such as selling your own products or services, don't necessarily depend on reaching a particular TikTok follower number.

That's why the answer depends on which type of monetization you're trying to use.

How Many Views Do You Need to Make Money on TikTok?

There is no universal number of views that guarantees income.

For direct creator programs, TikTok determines which views qualify under its current rules.

For other monetization methods, views can create opportunities rather than direct payments.

For example:

Views → profile visits → website clicks → product purchase or:

Views → followers → brand interest → sponsorship

The number of views is therefore only one part of the equation.

Can You Make Money on TikTok Without Being Monetized?

Yes.

This is an important distinction.

You can potentially earn through:

* Affiliate marketing
* Sponsorships
* Services
* Products
* Digital products
* UGC
* Business leads

These methods don't necessarily require TikTok to pay you directly.

For example, a freelance designer could create TikTok videos showcasing their work and receive a client inquiry.

The creator has monetized their TikTok audience even though the payment came from the client rather than TikTok.

How to Make Money on TikTok Videos

If you're specifically interested in earning from videos, consider giving each video a purpose.

Educational video

Answer a question and build authority.

Product video

Demonstrate something useful and introduce an affiliate or product opportunity.

Portfolio video

Show your skills and attract clients.

Entertainment video

Build reach and grow your audience.

Review video

Create opportunities for affiliate marketing or sponsorships.

Tutorial

Build trust and potentially promote a relevant product or service.

This approach is more sustainable than making every video a direct sales pitch.

How to Make Money From TikTok as a Beginner

Beginners should focus on building a foundation first.

Pick one audience

Don't try to create content for everyone.

Solve one type of problem

For example:

* Gaming tips
* Study advice
* Fitness routines
* Technology tutorials
* Cooking recipes
* Money-saving ideas

Publish consistently

Consistency gives you more opportunities to discover which topics your audience prefers.

Review analytics

Look for videos that receive strong watch time, shares, comments, and profile visits.

Introduce monetization gradually

Once you understand your audience, choose an income method that matches your content.

Creator Rewards Program in the Philippines

If you're searching for the Creator Rewards Program in the Philippines, check the monetization options currently displayed in your TikTok account.

TikTok features can differ between countries, and program availability can change.

Don't assume that requirements from another country apply to your account.

The most reliable approach is to check TikTok Studio and the current official requirements for your location.

7 Ways to Increase Your Monetization Opportunities

1. Build a focused niche

A clear topic makes it easier to attract the right viewers.

2. Create original content

Original content helps you build a recognizable identity.

3. Make useful videos

Give people a reason to watch and follow.

4. Develop multiple skills

Learning filming, editing, storytelling, and basic marketing can increase your opportunities.

5. Build trust

Don't recommend products simply because someone offers a commission.

6. Create a portfolio

Keep examples of your strongest videos, especially if you're interested in UGC or brand work.

7. Don't depend on one income source

TikTok policies and monetization programs can change, so having multiple income channels can provide more flexibility.

Mistakes to Avoid When Trying to Get Monetized

Avoid shortcuts that can hurt your account or audience.

Common mistakes include:

* Buying followers
* Buying fake views
* Reposting copyrighted videos
* Copying other creators
* Making unrealistic income claims
* Promoting irrelevant products
* Posting excessive advertisements
* Ignoring disclosure requirements
* Violating TikTok policies
* Depending entirely on viral videos

Monetization works best when the audience trusts the creator.

Frequently Asked Questions

There is no universal timeline. It depends on the specific monetization program, your account, your location, and whether you meet the current requirements.

Final Thoughts

Learning how to get monetized on TikTok is about more than reaching a particular follower number.

Direct TikTok programs can provide one potential income stream, but creators also have opportunities through sponsorships, affiliate marketing, products, services, UGC, LIVE content, and business leads.

If you're starting from scratch, concentrate on one niche, publish original videos, understand your audience, and check TikTok Studio regularly for the monetization features available to your account.

Once you have an audience that trusts your content, you can choose the monetization methods that fit your niche and goals.
